Item 3 for Discussion

3. A plan to organize and operate LESI or Member Society’s conference/meeting using AI-based translating device/software: (OPTIONAL)

[Forecast]
- AI-based translating device/software will be upgraded day-by-day, especially in accuracy of translation in any professional area such as intellectual property in a few years
- Such device will become a requisite for an international association to stimulate its activities among members of the association such as conference, meeting or the like, which will eventually contribute to increase membership
Three Steps using AI-based translating device/software

[Step 1]

LESI conference/meeting organizer provides all speakers/panelists who do not make their speeches in English with AI-based translating device/software so that their speeches are translated into English.

--- This step will increase possibility in inviting outstanding speakers/panelists who may not well speak or understand English but have excellent knowledge and speaking capability in language other than English for LESI conference/meeting.
Three Steps using AI-based translating device/software

[Step 2]

AI-based translation device/software is provided at every LESI conference/meeting to each attending individual member whose Member Society’s official language is not English and who has hesitated to attend such conference/meeting due to language problem, and who wants to use such device/software at the conference/meeting so that such individual member can translate speech of the speaker/panelist into his/her own language by relying on such device/software. (LESI may ask such individual member a certain amount of deposit for renting the device).

--- This step may drastically increase the number of registrants globally for conference or meeting, which will eventually contribute to the increase of LES membership.
Three Steps using AI-based translating device/software

[Step 3]

LESI conference/meeting organizer uses AI-based device/software at every virtual or on-site conference/meeting so that any speech by speaker, panelist or attendee is automatically translated verbally or in the form of subtitles on the screen of the presentation into another language different from that spoken by speaker, panelist or attendee, desirably at the choice of the attendee.

- - - This step may drastically increase the number of registrants globally for conference or meeting, which will eventually contribute to the competitiveness of LES family as well as to increase of LES membership.
